INTIMATE HILLSIDE RETREAT

Amandayan is the Aman groups third property to open in China. Set on a hillside above the UNESCO Old Town of Lijiang, Amandayan draws its name from the Sanskrit derived word for 'peace' and 'Dayan', the historic name for Lijiang when it was first established by the ruling Mu family in the 13th century. Traditional courtyard buildings create 35 spacious suites with views over the countryside and snowcapped mountains on the horizon. The design was inspired by its setting, embracing style elements from traditional Nakhi architecture and integrating harmoniously into the town. The carefully preserved Wenchang Palace is set in one of the traditional courtyards dating back to 1725. There are ample dining options for all palates, plus a spa, pool, and library.
